

The image features a dark blue background. In the upper half, there are two large, overlapping red circles. The left circle is partially obscured by a large, white, stylized text 'HRR'. The 'H' is formed by a house-like shape with a chimney. The 'R' is a simple, bold letter. Below the 'HRR', the year '2025' is written in a white, outlined font. In the lower half, there is a white line-art illustration of a city skyline with several buildings of varying heights. Some buildings have circular tops containing stylized tree-like shapes. A small red flag is visible on the right side of the skyline.

HELLO WINSHAPE CAMPS HOSTS!

We are so glad to have you here at Host Rally! We look forward to meeting you over these next few days.

My wife, Courtney, and I joined WinShape Foundation as camp season was kicking off last summer, and all we could say was, “Wow!” We were blown away by the camp experience we witnessed as we visited various locations and saw the over-the-top intentionality that puts Jesus front and center for these campers—all while giving them one of the most fun weeks of their summer! Having spent the last 25 years leading organizations in the cloud/telecom technology industry and serving as an elder of Fellowship Bible Church in Roswell, Georgia, I’m thrilled to now be at WinShape. I can’t imagine any better work alongside any greater and more committed people (and that includes each of you!).

As you may know, WinShape Camps served over 27,000 campers last summer, with 1,236 kids praying to receive Christ as their Savior. While each of those 1,236 decisions were life-impacting moments, we know the discipleship journey occurs over a lifetime. Thank you for facilitating the biblical communities where these campers and families can grow in Christ! Just like 1 Corinthians 12 talks about one body and many parts, we see the “parts” each of you steward that make this possible. Some of us serve chicken sandwiches and the best waffle fries on earth, some of us put on catalytic camp experiences, and some of us provide a local community to grow disciples. What’s beautiful is that, together, we are advancing the Kingdom more than we ever could on our own!

Our prayer for you over these next few days is that your heart will be tended to, your mind will be refreshed to think about the ministry the Lord has called you into, and your body will be energized by spending time in worship alongside other like-minded followers of Christ who are in this journey with you! We are praying you experience Hebrews 10:24: “And let us consider how we may spur one another on toward love and good deeds.”

Please let us know how we can best serve you this week and beyond. It is our privilege and joy!

Jeff and Courtney Osborn

At Host Rally we gather to equip, connect, and enrich ministry leaders for the purpose of impacting communities with the message of Jesus Christ.

This mission statement anchors and informs every element of our time together. It's our privilege to partner with you, and we don't take your presence for granted. Thank you for carving out the space and time to be with us. Our commitment to reaching your community with the message of Jesus Christ comes along with a continued commitment to invest in you over the next few days.

While at Host Rally, you can expect to be:

- Equipped for the ministry of camp in your community and for the impact that will spread over the other 51 weeks of the year.
- Connected with a valuable network of people who are working in the same spaces, facing the same burdens, and aiming for the same end goal.
- Enriched in your life and work through relevant resources, information and a few days of spiritual investment.

Be on the lookout for these priorities practically embodied in each element of your Host Rally experience. And now—all hands on deck as we explore this year's Camp theme, Uncharted!

If you do find yourself needing anything while you are here with us, please text your Host Dev Rep or visit us at Check Point! Again, Welcome to Host Rally! We are so glad you are here!

Wednesday, February 5th - 7:30AM – 1:00PM

Session One | Miles Fidell

Miles Fidell is the Lead Pastor of Auburn Community Church. From a young age, God gave Miles a vision of church that was not content to settle into half-hearted, lukewarm, cultural Christianity. After graduating from Kennesaw State University, Miles studied at Reformed Theological Seminary and married Courtney as they began their ministry together in metro Atlanta. In 2014, Miles and Courtney moved to Auburn to start ACC with a group of families committed to doing church in a unique way. ACC has grown into a thriving, multigenerational church impacting students and families in Auburn and around the world.

Session Two | Dr. Ammie Akin

Ammie (AM-ee) Akin is a 22-year career educator with a background spanning all levels of administration, from elementary to college, with 18 years spent in upper-level school leadership. She has served as a teacher, elementary administrator, assistant superintendent, college professor, and most recently Interim Superintendent of Briarwood Christian School.

As the executive director for an organization committed to improving literacy for elementary students, Ammie authored, implemented and trained local service providers on a scientifically based curriculum to stop the summer reading slide. The program was a success and is still active across the state of Alabama.

Ammie is christening her next education challenge in the spirit of entrepreneurship with an exciting new project that promotes goodwill and community. Called, “Hub in the Hills,” she and her husband, Will, are busy repurposing a dormant school into an expansive and contemporary space for non-profits and organizations to gather and grow. Unless U, a non-profit for adults with developmental disabilities, is a key partner in Hub in the Hills.

Ammie attended the College of Education at The University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa and earned a Doctorate degree in Educational Leadership at Samford University. Her dissertation was placed into practice in assisting her faculty and district in transitioning to a more engaging and student-centered approach.

Personally, Ammie and her husband, Will, manage a fun-filled trio of boys — Jack (13), George (11) and Henry (7) – who can often be spotted cheering on the Lions of Briarwood Christian school or on a tube challenging the wake of their pontoon on Lake Tuscaloosa.

Session Three | Chris Witt with Jordan Nations & Christian Maynard

Chris is the Senior Director of WinShape Camps.

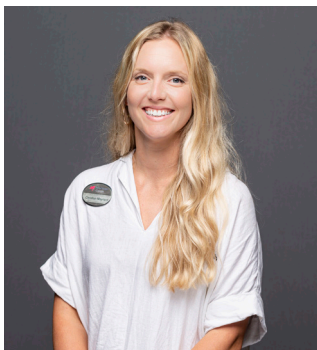

A Texas native, Chris graduated with a degree in communications from Texas A&M. He later went on to complete a Master of Arts in global leadership at Fuller Theological Seminary. While in college, Chris began serving in ministry as both a youth pastor of a small local church and a camp counselor at Sky Ranch in Dallas.

He then began working with Sky Ranch full-time, a partnership that would last more than 20 years and find Chris progressing through a variety of roles—from Conference Coordinator to Director of Teen Camps to Senior Director of Camps—before finally serving as the Executive Director and Chief Ministry Officer. Over his tenure at Sky Ranch, Chris spearheaded a staff development program, steered the camp's overall ministry philosophy, and led significant expansion into Oklahoma and Colorado.

In 2012, Chris transitioned to church ministry, joining the staff of Grace Community Church in Tyler, Texas, as the Executive Pastor. After more than eight years in local church ministry, Chris accepted the role of Senior Director for WinShape Camps where he provides strategic direction and leadership for WinShape Camps for Girls, WinShape Camps for Boys, WinShape Camps for Families, Camps for Communities and WinShape Camps International.

Chris met his wife, Kim, at Texas A&M. They have two boys—Caleb, a graduate of Texas A&M who is married to Alyssa, and Austin, who currently attends University of Texas at Austin.

Christian Maynard

Christian Maynard grew up in the sunny city of Jacksonville, FL. She studied at the University of Florida (Go Gators!) and earned her Master's in Kinesiology/Sports Medicine. With a love for sports and a heart for women's ministry, she began her journey with WinShape Camps for Girls as an Activities Coordinator, where she was able to blend her passion for sports and ministry.

After some time, Christian felt called to transition to the WinShape Camps for Communities Team, driven by a passion for the work of the local church. She has been able to witness firsthand how local churches play a pivotal role in shaping communities and building lasting connections. Now, Christian serves the Summer Staff team, finding immense joy in training and walking alongside our Summer Staff, equipping them to lead and serve with excellence as they step into your communities.

Jordan Nations

Jordan Nations has spent the past decade serving families and young adults alongside a handful of incredible ministries and churches. He leads the Program Team at WinShape Camps for Communities, preaches at a variety of church events throughout the year, and serves as a doorholder at Passion City Church. He is the author of Not Home Yet: Discovering Purpose and Joy this Side of Heaven, and will release his next book in late Spring. Jordan earned his B.S. at Florida State University and is nearing completion of his M.Div at Fuller Theological Seminary.

Session Four | Gerald Fadayomi

Gerald Fadayomi currently serves as the founding pastor of Home Church Roswell, a church plant in Atlanta, Georgia. Gerald has a heart for the city and a passion to see lives transformed by the gospel. As an Atlanta native, Gerald spent 4 years as a student pastor at North Point Ministries and almost 2 years on staff at Local Church Forsyth as the creative and young adults pastor. Gerald's passion for the next generation has allowed him to speak to students at camps and conferences across the country including North Point Ministries, Bigstuf Camps, Orange Conference and many other events.

Gerald is the author of “Before You Go,” a resource designed to help students follow Jesus and grow in their faith. He also co-authored Starting Now, a devotional for college freshmen. His most recent book entitled “When Life Gives You Lemons,” serves as a practical guide for navigating seasons of adversity for all ages. Prior to his current role, Gerald spent 3 years doing non-profit work for the YMCA of Metro Atlanta.

Gerald is happily married to his beautiful wife Kiley and loves spending his free time cheering on Lebron James and browsing through the SNKRS app. They live in Atlanta and are proud parents of three beautiful daughters.
